THE GREAT CANADIAN VALUE

THESE REASONS make it wiser than ever TO CHOOSE THIS SIX TODAY!

- 1 Chevrolet pioneered the six-cylinder engine in the low priced field because this is the one type of power plant that strikes a perfect balance of smooth performance and maximum economy. It is necessary to have six cylinders to get multi-cylinder smoothness.
- 2 Drivers of sixes never want less; and anything more than six cylinders means a sacrifice of economy! The Chevrolet Six costs less to operate than any other full-size car. Naturally, more than six cylinders would mean greater expense for gasoline, oil and upkeep.
- 3 The 1932 Chevrolet Six is a proved car. It represents the fullest development of the basic multi-cylinder principle which has resulted in highest satisfaction to more than 2,000,000 Chevrolet Six owners.
- 4 The Chevrolet Six is the lowest priced car combining Silent Synchro-Mesh shift and Free Wheeling.
- 5 Bodies by Fisher are exclusive on Chevrolet in the lowest price field. Fisher hardwood-and-steel construction is the safest and most durable.
- 6 New, reduced prices and easy terms over a period of months. Immediate delivery of any model.
- 7 The Chevrolet motor is mounted on thick rubber blocks, utilizing the most modern and efficient method of preventing vibration.
- 8 109-inch wheelbase. Strong frame. Four long springs, with four Lovejoy shock absorbers.
- 9 Stabilized front fender design. Insulated driver's compartment. Fisher non-glare VV windshield, easily adjustable with one hand for ventilation.
- 10 Down Draft Carburetion with heat control. Harmonically balanced, counterweighted crankshaft.
- 11 Powerful, enclosed four-wheel brakes. Separate emergency brake system.
- 12 Built in Canada, of Canadian materials by Canadian workers.

Teamwork

The one word of term embodying this thing most needed now and most likely to be needed in an increasing way for the long pull back to more satisfactory economic and business conditions is, in our opinion, "Teamwork." If there ever was a time which called for "the long pull and the strong pull altogether," that time is now.

A farmer following his horses as he guides a plough along the furrows knows what teamwork on the part of the horses means, and teamwork between the horses and the ploughman. Possibly he realizes the full value and necessity of such teamwork in an even more striking manner when it is lacking, and, as the outcome, proper results are not being achieved.

Men participating in the many fields of sport have a full appreciation of the value of teamwork. Every successful captain of a team drills it into his men. But how frequently one reads that such-and-such a team, while composed of brilliant and superior individual players, lost out to an individually inferior team because of a lack of co-ordinated effort—in a word, teamwork. And this lack of teamwork all too frequently results because one or more of these individually brilliant players desire to keep themselves in the "spotlight," play to the gallery, and win plaudits for themselves rather than for the team as a whole.

Success in military exploits depends to a very large extent upon teamwork, the co-ordination of every arm of the service to the achievement of one common object, the co-operation of each unit with every other unit, both in preparation and final action, to the end that victory be won. Without this "union in service" the bravest men in the world are likely to suffer defeat at the hands of an inferior but more unified force. Victory does not always rest with the big battalions, but with the compact body which moves and acts with precision as one man.

The same principle applies with equal truth and power in the realm of national, political, and community life. If in an army the artillery considered that it, and it alone, was the effective instrument in winning battles, and, instead of co-operating with the infantry, tanks, machine-gunners and aircraft, actually ignored and even strove against them, the enemy would win. Yet, how often groups of people having a common object in community effort or in the political arena instead of working together to achieve that object, actually oppose each other solely because they do not agree upon every detail of their programme, nor see eye to eye as to the methods by and through which the reforms desired by all are to be brought about. And the result, of course, is victory for the other group or policy to which they are all opposed.

There are many time-honored maxims which point the truth that teamwork is essential to success. "In union there is strength," "United we stand, divided we fall"; while for the enemy forces there is always the further maxim: "Divide and rule."

Teamwork can only be brought about by a willingness to compromise. Some good people regard the word "compromise" as something essentially wrong, as a great evil. True, right cannot compromise with wrong, nor honesty with dishonesty, but where two are striving for what both believe to be right, and in opposition to what they are agreed is unwise or wrong, it is the height of folly to divide into separate and opposing camps, weakening each other and the cause they both desire to advance, simply because of difference of opinion as to exact objective to be achieved or the methods by which it shall be achieved. Unless there is compromise, rather than such one insisting upon acceptance of their views to the exclusion of others, failure for both must inevitably follow and victory be recorded for the common enemy.

The experiences through which the world is passing have impressed a majority of people with the need for more or less radical changes in our economic and social structure. That change is necessary is fairly well recognized, but some desire to move much more rapidly and drastically than others; some believe the remedy for our ills is to be found in another policy; others, again, advocate something else. All want improvement, reform. But through divided councils, lack of co-operation, in a word, an absence of teamwork, nothing but confusion has thus far resulted, while those minorities who are most or least satisfied with things as they are, by working together, are enabled to dominate.

This condition prevails in society, business, community effort, in municipal, provincial, and international politics. It is even found in family life. It is fatal to progress, a continually delaying factor in the onward march of reform.

What the world needs today is not antagonism, but mutual sympathy; not competition, but co-operation; not isolated action, but co-ordination of effort; not single-handed play, but teamwork. And these things can only be brought about by compromise. So, let's compromise and develop mutual strength through teamwork. The world will then begin to get somewhere, and out of the slough of depression in which it continues to founder.

"After a long and very trying illness, I was down to 90 lbs. in weight. I could not eat a hearty meal. In fact, I have had to go away from the table hungry, from a dinner I dared not touch. I was also very pale. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so thought I would give them a trial. I soon found I was able to eat with any relish, and we began to look brighter. My weight came up to 118 lbs. and my lips and cheeks had lots of color. I am more than thankful I ever took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I only hope others will try them." Britain Preparing For Greater Invasion Of Tourists From Canada Than Ever Before

Britain is preparing for a greater invasion of tourists from Canada and the United States than ever before, this season. This is due to more determined efforts on the part of the Travel Association of Great Britain and Ireland, who have highly organized their resources for welcoming visitors to the Old Land.

Recent ocean rate reductions to the extent of 20 per cent. have now made it possible to spend a summer holiday by going to Europe, doing what ever sight-seeing one's time permits, and returning to this country for an all-inclusive charge of less than seven dollars a day, according to the Cunard and Anchor-Donaldson lines. These tours in Europe include the best sight-seeing in the time available, chiefly by motor coach, as well as by rail and steamer. These tours also include visits to the Continent, in France and Belgium especially.

"Modern Third Class" is used for the ocean crossing and to many people whose memories of Third Class date back to many years ago when they first came to Canada, this class offers surprising comfort. Now, in fact, third class is more comfortable than first class was thirty or forty years ago.

Ontario and Quebec provinces expect to reap some benefit from the mass of tourists who pass through Montreal on their way to Europe, as many western Canada and United States visitors spend some time seeing Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal, en route.

Some Of The Advantages As Well As Disadvantages In Growing Of Reward Wheat

(By H. G. L. Strange)

As the wheat fields in Western Canada began to extend northward the need was felt for a wheat variety that would mature earlier than Marquis, so as to avoid damage from early fall frosts. Several new varieties had been produced by plant breeders to fill this purpose, notably the Red Bobs selections, originated by Dr. Seager Wheeler, Supreme, Early Triumph and Red Bobs 222, the latter having been re-selected by the University of Alberta, also the varieties Garnet and Reward produced by the Dominion Experimental Farms, Ottawa.

Because of its high yield Garnet wheat quickly became popular and in the last few years has increased by leaps and bounds in Northern Alberta and Northern Saskatchewan. Some concern, however, has been expressed because the millers' qualities of Garnet are somewhat different to those of Marquis, and because Garnet flour has a slightly yellowish tinge, that the quality and reputation of Canadian wheat on the world's markets might be harmed if too large an amount of Garnet should be grown.

Because of this concern some have recommended that some of the other earlier varieties might be better. Reward wheat is one that is widely recommended.

Reward was originated at the Dominion Experimental Farms, Ottawa and is the result of a cross between Marquis and Prelude made by Dr. Charles Saunders in 1912. Under the direction of Mr. L. H. Newman, the present Dominion Cerealist, the variety was tested for several years by several hundred co-operatives in different parts of the west. Finally the variety was released by the Minister of Agriculture for further trials by farmers in 1928.

Reward wheat has this year been accepted for registration by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, which means that the scientific plant breeders of Canadian institutions consider that the variety is of good economic value and is well-suited for use in Western Canada. There can, therefore, be no need for hesitation in the use of this variety by any farmer who find that their districts and farms are suited to Reward wheat. The Dominion Cerealist has now standardized the variety and Registered Seed of Reward, true to variety and sealed in the sack, will undoubtedly be available to farmers in the near future.

The official description of Reward wheat is as follows: Time of maturity 5 to 8 days earlier than Marquis—height of plant 3 to 4 inches shorter than Marquis on the average—strength of stem a little stronger than Marquis—awns absent except for a few short apical awns, usually irregular in length, glume covering, slightly to heavily pubescent (or hairy), depending on season and locality, grain color red, usually darker than Marquis, grain texture hard, rarely plebeian or starchy.

The head of Reward is generally shorter and more lax than Marquis, while the spikelets are usually more or less irregularly arranged, giving the head a characteristic ragged or spiral appearance. As previously stated the glumes are pubescent or covered with short hairs which can usually easily be seen with the naked eye, magnifying glass. This is one of the always with a magnifying glass. This is one of the characters that help in identifying the variety.

The milling and baking values of Reward wheat are excellent. It gives a high yield of flour. It bakes into bread, giving a large well piled loaf of excellent color and texture. The berry is uniformly plump, of a clear red color, seldom being plebeian or starchy. This is the reason this variety will often bring No. 1 Hard and No. 1 Northern in the Northern districts where Marquis and some other sorts seldom obtain better than a No. 3 grade.

The straw is shorter and stiffer than in either Marquis or Garnet, and in wet years Reward will often stand up when some other varieties, particularly Garnet, go down. The chaff is light on the kernel, which enables it to stand a considerable amount of moisture in the fall without sprouting in the stock, such as often happens with other sorts, particularly with Garnet.

It is from 5 to 8 days earlier than Marquis, or about as early as Garnet wheat in most places, although in other places it is 2 or 3 days later than Garnet, but it is always earlier than Marquis.

Weights very high in the bushel. Usually two or three pounds more than Marquis, Garnet or other sorts. Weights of 65 and 66 pounds to the bushel are quite common with Reward wheat. Reward is probably the best of all varieties of hard Red Spring Wheat for exhibition purposes. Its high weight per bushel, bright, plump and pleasing berry of good lustre usually win it a high place in competition with other varieties.

Reward wheat is not a rust resistant wheat, but because of its earliness in most years often suffers less damage from rust than many of the other varieties. Investigations show that Reward wheat does not shatter as much as some of the other varieties, particularly Garnet.

On rolling land wheat on the high ridges usually ripens before that in the low spots. Reward will stand on these high places uncut after ripening for a considerable time without the berry shrinking or discoloring, thus the whole field can be allowed to ripen, thoroughly before cutting; therefore the sample should be of an even color and plumpness even from such rolling land. Its stiff straw, early maturity, non-shattering head and ability to stand after ripening without much loss of plumpness, weight or color, makes Reward wheat an excellent variety to use for Comb Harvesting.

The most defect of Reward wheat at the present moment seems to be that on the whole the yield is lower than either Marquis or Garnet, but in some districts farmers state the yield of Reward is higher than Marquis or Garnet, and in many districts where most farmers report lower yields of Reward there are often one or two farmers who report higher yields. In most cases those who report high yields of Reward have seeded from a peck to half a bushel more than is usual with Marquis or Garnet. Every case investigated where the farmer seeded two bushels of Reward to the acre reported as giving a satisfactory yield.

R. C. Douglas Fit Now Grown Extensively In England

During the eleven years ending in September, 1930, the Forestry Commissioners of Great Britain planted a total of 32,330,000 Douglas fir trees on various sites in England, Wales and Scotland. All these trees were raised from seed furnished by the Forest Service, Department of the Interior, through their seed-extraction plant at New Westminster, British Columbia. A considerable quantity of seed of other western species was furnished to the Commissioners from the same source. The New Zealand Government also took a large quantity of tree seed.

Recent Discovery Interests Astronomers

May Be Asteroid Nearer To Earth Than Any Yet Found

Astronomers at Mount Wilson Observatory and others in this country and Europe are keeping a close watch on Delport's "object," an asteroid or comet discovered recently by an astronomer at the University of Brussels.

"Our observations of it have disclosed no tail and seemingly only reflected light," said Dr. Frederick H. Sears, indicating that it is an asteroid and one much closer to the earth than any yet found.

He is assistant director of the local observatory, a branch of the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

"Discovery of an asteroid nearer the earth," Dr. Sears said, "would enable us to obtain a more accurate value of the distance from the earth to the sun, upon which the measurement of distances to all heavenly bodies is based."

"We are much in the position of a surveyor computing the width of a river by shooting at a given point across the stream from two different points on his side of it, and determining the angles of the imaginary triangle. The narrower the stream the more accurate his measurement will be."

"Our computation of 93,000,000 miles as the distance of the sun from the earth is based on the estimate of 13,000,000 miles as the distance from the earth to Eros, the nearest asteroid yet found."

Prices May Be Better

Possibility Of Advance In Wheat Predicted By U.S. Official

A "strong possibility" of better wheat prices are seen by George S. Milnor, president and general manager of the Grain Stabilization Corporation. In a statement Milnor said:

"While in Europe I visited France, Italy, Germany, Belgium and England, and also met our foreign representatives from other countries. Europe will receive rather heavy imports of wheat between now and the harvesting of their new crop. Russia has practically completed the shipment of her wheat surplus from the last crop and the supplies from that source will be negligible until after harvest; therefore, Europe must look principally to Canada, the United States and Argentina for their supplies."

Great Britain And United States Unite In Opposing Abolition Of The Larger Naval Vessels

Rainy Lake Map Sheet

Lake Country East Of Winnipeg Is A Paradise For Canoeists

Very informative and interesting is the Rainy Lake Map Sheet of the National Topographic series, recently published by the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

The map covers the country along the international boundary from Quebec, Ontario Provincial Park on the east to within thirty-three miles of the town of Rainy River on the west. In addition to agricultural, mineral, forest and water power resources embraced in the area, it is known as a great hunting and fishing region. The Port Arthur, Rainy River and Winnipeg line of the Canadian National Railways runs through the district from east to west, picking its way through the maze of lakes and rivers, which were the means of transportation from the time of the opening up of Western Canada until the railway came, about the beginning of the present century. The lakes and back-country are a paradise for the canoeist, the fisherman, and the hunter, and the waterways are so intricate that the voyagers and trappers of the fur companies from the time of La Verendrye onward were always searching for shorter routes for the carriage of their furs and trade goods.

The chief centre of population is Port Francis, named after Lady Simpson, the wife of Sir George Simpson, one of the famous governors of the Hudson's Bay Company. Port Francis is situated on Rainy River a few miles below the point where it emerges from Rainy Lake. Near there shown the water powers with which its name is associated. On the south side of the river in United States is the town of International Falls. The agricultural areas are chiefly in the western portion, extending from Port Francis to the townships indicated on the extreme western edge of the map.

The railways and highways in United States which bring travellers and tourists into this part of Canada are also shown. The map which is more complete in all topographic detail of this district than any previously issued, may be had at a nominal price upon application to the Director of the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

"I met your husband yesterday, but he didn't see me."

"I know. He told me."

Another thing that doesn't turn out as you wish is the auto ahead of you.

Great Britain and the United States fought for their battleships at the Arms Conference at Geneva, forming a defensive alliance against an organized offensive of the small powers who wish to classify all ships over 10,000 tons as aggressive.

"The small powers would abolish battleships or internationalize them within the League."

The United States and Britain received moderate support from Japan and lukewarm encouragement from France.

Senator Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia, announced at the meeting of the naval commission that the United States unequivocally opposed classifying battleships as offensive weapons. They are the backbone of the United States defense system, he said, and "a threat to no nation," since we cover no one's territory. He stressed the United States obligation to keep the Panama Canal open in peace and war and to defend its Far Eastern possessions.

Speaking and gesturing in a senatorial manner, he continued:

"If we had completed our naval programme after the war, it is conceded we would have been supreme on the seas, but we agreed to be a threat to no nation. . . . The battleship is cheaper and more effective for defensive purposes than to build fortifications along our coastlines. Battleships have saved us a great and expensive army for defense purposes."

"We realize that naval power plus military power would menace every nation. . . . We only wish the people who have armies had gone as far as the naval people in reducing and limiting."

He declared cruisers to be of greater offensive use than battleships, particularly in preying on commerce and blockading.

Vice-Admiral A. D. P. R. Pound, of Great Britain, supported Swanson, declaring that general naval superiority, not capital ships, enables attacks on trade. Similarly, he continued, it is not fair to claim that battleships are destined for carrying out invasions.

"The capital ships of the world can now almost be numbered on the fingers of the two hands," he said. "They are more precious than rubies to the countries possessing them. No nation is going to risk them by pitting them against coastal fortifications."

Baron Von Rheinbaken, of Germany, announced that Germany is willing to sacrifice her powerful and efficient "pocket" battleships on the altar of disarmament if others scrap battleships over 10,000 tons. Defending the "pocket" ships as defensive rather than offensive, he said:

"Germany's 10,000-ton battleship costs one-half as much as your battleships. You would be saving money if you adopted Germany's restricted tonnage methods of construction."

He heatedly attacked the charges made by Charles Dumont, of France, that the "pocket" ships are offensive. He referred to the charges as a myth and introduced a technical demonstration of why the light ships were built speedily and heavily armed to defend Germany against the superior tonnage of foreign attackers.

He also criticized the United States threat of the defensive nature of battleships, saying:

"What about the blockade of our ports, which was the decisive turning point of the World War?"

Just An Old English Custom

A. R. Garner may be truly said to carry his responsibilities lightly as he observes an old English custom and carries his bride, the former Miss Marjorie Pretwell, through the door of St. Cuthbert's Church, Yorkshire, after the ceremony.

"Why is your husband in such a rage?" "They are praising marriage over the wireless!"—Dorthea, Berlin.

Flood Sufferers In China Are Starving

Matter Brought Before League Of Nations Manchurian Commission

News of how 6,000,000 Chinese flood sufferers in the Hwei River Valley north of Anhwei are existing chiefly on grass and bark, while some are being sold in a human market, was brought to the attention of the League of Nations' Manchurian Commission at Peking.

The affected area was estimated at twice the size of New York State.

The chief supply of food has been relief wheat from the United States. But owing to the trouble at Shanghai between the Chinese and Japanese and inconvenient transportation conditions only 4,000 tons of wheat thus far have reached the Hwei Valley, said Shaozu Peter Chuan, superintendent of the National Flood Relief Commission for the North Anhwei area.

It will be late in June before the wheat crop will have matured and the problem is to feed the starving millions, while the authorities do everything possible to improve transportation. Meanwhile, the refugees have been eating grass, weeds, sprouts and the bark of trees.

Relief workers reported to Chuan that the market price for the sale of humans is $1 in Chinese money, or about twenty cents in American, for each year of the person's age. A ten-year-old child sells for $10 or about $2 in gold, the rate rising $1 a year until the age of 25, when the price begins to recede.

SHE HAD TO CRAWL TO BED

One stair at a time—on her hands and knees—that was how she had to do it. And when she did get to bed, her troubles were not over.

"Twelve months ago I could not sleep on account of the terrible pains in my knees, and I might say in all my joints. At night I could only crawl up to bed, one stair at a time. But since taking Kruschen Salts regularly, I have entirely lost all pains and stiffness, and, if needed, could now run upstairs two at a time. In fact, I feel 10 years younger. I shall never be without Kruschen Salts."—Mrs. A. E. D.

Do you realize what causes rheumatism? Nothing but sharp-edged uric acid crystals which form as the result of sluggish elimination of uric acid. Kruschen Salts can always be counted upon to clear those painful crystals from the system. The six salts in Kruschen are bound to dissolve away all traces of uric acid. And more! They ensure such perfect internal regularity that no such body poisons as uric acid are ever able to accumulate again. Prove this for yourself by buying a bottle of Kruschen.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 15

JACOB AT BETHEL

Golden Text: "I am with thee and will keep thee whithersoever thou goest."—Genesis 28:15.

Lesson: Genesis 27:28.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 130:1-2.

Explanations and Comments

Jacob's Dream, verses 10-15.—Jacob was fleeing from Esau's wrath; He was going toward Haran when, quite by accident it would seem from the expression "He lighted upon a certain place," he came to the hillside near Bethel and there in a dream he had his vision of God.

"God pity the boy who leaves home and does not carry with him some kind of pointing finger that shows the way to God, some memories, some imaginations, that lead him to the place where God may be seen."—Ralph Connor.

Needing something for a pillow he could find nothing better at hand than one of the stones on the hillside. When Bishop Taylor returned to this country he had no use for soft pillows and more than once substituted a headrest of boulders.

The sun hung low in the sky as Jacob approached Bethel, and his last sight before falling asleep had been the hills around him, of limestone rock in strata that rise above the other. He dreamed, and naturally dreamed of a light of stone steps, or ladder, reaching to heaven. The ladder symbolized the thought that there was communication between heaven and earth, between God and man.

The Spirit of God always conveys His teaching to servants in language borrowed from their surroundings. John's Revelation is full of reminiscences of the Agean, which sometimes murmured around the cliffs of his prison late as a sea of glass bathed in fire, and at other times broke on them in yeasty foam. David's Psalms make constant reference to the wild hill country of Judah in which so many of them were composed."—B. F. Meyer.

"It is melancholy to hear of Bethel's ruin, for, past it we are to conclude that that ladder between the soul and God has been pulled up, or, at least, the direct, divine intercourse has ceased."—Rufus M. Jones.

"Heaven is not far from the earth. Even in the bleak and barren stretches of our life, when we feel lonely and desolate, there may come to us experiences which cheer and assure us that they seem like very angels from above, and which carry us up from the depths of our desolation to the very gates of heaven."—J. E. McFadyen.

On Jacob's dream ladder the angels of God were ascending and descending, symbolizing the thought that there is communication between God and man. Before this Jacob knew that God is: now he learned that God was accessible. When he was living at home, where his life was made comfortable by the favoritism of Rebekah, his mother, there was no room in his mind for a revelation from God. When alone on the rocky hillside, with no one to help him, God found him susceptible to divine influence. Providence often thus prepares the way for revelation.

And then in Jacob's dream Jehovah appeared beside him and spoke words of encouragement and hope, and in story and landscape where he was lying was woven into his dream, so were the words of his father Isaac in that parting blessing: "God Almighty bless thee, and be thou multiplied, and thou mayest inherit the land of thy sojourning, which God gave unto Abraham."—3, 4. He heard God promise that he should inherit the land, that his descendants should be "as the dust of the earth" in number, and in him and in them "all the families of the earth should be blessed."

And then God added the assurance of His companionship and guidance: "And behold I am with thee and will keep thee whithersoever thou goest." "The God of Bethel" has become a phrase for God's ever-watchful care. Do we think of God as the Commander of our ways, as with us in all the experiences of life? Has the thought of the majesty and the presence of God been a working power in our lives? In peace will I lay my head down and sleep; for Thou, Jehovah, alone makest me to dwell in safety. Psalm 4:8.

'Plane Surprises Natives

Dayaks Of Borneo Wanted To Know If Flying Machine Laid Eggs

The head-hunting Dayaks of Borneo were so intrigued at the sight of their first aeroplane that they wanted to know whether it laid eggs.

Richard Halliburton, of Memphis, who is on a leisurely flight around the world, told the story to associates in New York in a cable from Manila.

The Tennessee flyer's message said he had arrived at Manila at the end of a 40,000-mile flight and had spent three weeks in Borneo with his 'plane, the "Flying Carpet," visiting the head hunting Dayaks, who never had seen an aeroplane.

"Took the chief flying in native undress, except for goggles," the cablegram said. "Apparently big event in Dayak's history. War boats were filled with warriors who came 100 miles to see the chief fly. Dayaks asked if aeroplane laid eggs."

GRAIN SHIPMENTS REPORTED FOR RUSSIAN POINTS

Vancouver, B.C.—The Vancouver Sun publishes the following:

"Coming as the most significant development in the Vancouver grain season, confirmation was secured of the sale of 1,500,000 bushels of grain for shipment to Russia from this port. Five vessels have been chartered to carry it to Vladivostok. The 'Castlemore', now loading here, is one. Names of the other four have not been disclosed.

"With Russia, three months ago regarded as the greatest menace to other wheat exporting countries, now back in world markets as a buyer, Vancouver grain men believed possibly 10,000,000 bushels of wheat would move through Vancouver to Siberia in the next few months.

"The 40,000 tons of grain going out on these five ships to a consuming channel undreamed of six weeks ago are generally understood to be supplies for Russian troops assembled in Siberia since the Manchurian border trouble with Japan.

"Not a great deal is known about the shipments since most of the wheat was negotiated in London.

"The London office of Kerr, Nifford and Company arranged four of the cargoes. It is understood.

"Two of the ships to carry the wheat were fixed in London, and the other three are stated to have been secured through the Canadian Transport Company of Vancouver.

"While the requirements of the Russian military forces in Siberia are considered the chief cause of the Canadian orders, the underlying reason for the shipments is believed to be new famine conditions in the Volga section of Russia.

Defendants Are Freed

One Hour Sentence Is Imposed In Connection With Massie Conviction

Honolulu.—Governor Lawrence M. Judd freed the four defendants of the famous Massie murder trial one hour after they had been sentenced to 10 years at hard labor at Oahu prison.

Sentence was passed in a surprise move on Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, and the two seamen, E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones.

Their hour of confinement was spent in the nominal custody of the sheriff at Iolani Palace, across the street from the judiciary building where for several weeks they battled unsuccessfully for freedom on charges of slaying Joseph Kahahawai, asserted attacker of Mrs. Massie.

Governor Judd, in commuting the sentence to one hour, merely said he was acting on a petition of the four defendants in which their counsel joined and was commuting the sentence to one hour.

Curtail Waste Of Gas

Steps Are Taken To Cut Down Gas Production In Turner Valley

Calgary, Alberta.—Turner Valley gas conservation board, formed by the government to curtail the waste of gas in Turner Valley gas field, announced that orders would be issued immediately requiring oil companies to cut down gas production. The board aims to lower production to 200,000 cubic feet daily in an effort to prolong the life of the gas fields.

It is understood oil companies will be informed that they have 48 hours to reduce their gas yield to conform with the board's objective. It is expected gas production will be curtailed greatly and most of the waste gas flares at the Turner Valley Wells practically extinguished.

The board members have elected A. Carpenter chairman. Other members of the board are John McLeish of the Department of Mines, Ottawa, and Dr. B. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta.

Skippered by Lieut.-Commander Geoffrey Coysch, of Toronto, the little vessel will follow a long itinerary. The only woman on the crew is Mrs. Coysch, while Frank Everett, her brother, and Murdoch Kirby are the other principals in what is hoped to be a search for treasure.

The party is to search for treasure in Cocos Island and collect data on the Hakaido—the mysterious race said to inhabit Easter Island. Everywhere they visit, photographs are to be taken, and when the ultimate destination, Singapore, is reached, the party hopes to have one of the most valuable photographic collections of South Sea Island in existence.

Assistance Will Be Given

Dominion To Stand Behind Provinces In Relief Matters

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion will contribute and where necessary loan also to the provinces in the matter of direct relief; a percentage of relief costs yet to be determined will be paid to the provinces; and if a province is unable at the moment to pay its share, the Dominion exchequer will loan this amount taking in security treasury bills.

This position of the Dominion Government was made clear in the House of Commons by Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, during consideration of the unemployment relief resolution. The minister was answering a question for the attitude of the Administration from Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, and Hon. Ernest Lapointe (Lib., Quebec East).

Maritime Senator Thinks Route For Canadian Grain Should Be Changed

Toronto, Ont.—Senator W. H. Dennis, of Halifax, told an interviewer he was "difficult for the people of the Maritimes to find justification for shipment of millions of bushels of Canadian grain through United States Atlantic ports."

He said United States railwaymen and waterfront workers were being provided employment handling Canadian grain while "the great Atlantic ports of Halifax and Saint John were idle as regards Canadian grain traffic."

Churchill Insurance Rates

Ottawa, Ont.—Every effort is being made to secure insurance rates that will encourage grain shippers to use the new terminal facilities at Churchill on Hudson Bay. Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state, advised the House in answer to questions.

The Imperial shipping board in England secured a reduction in the rate in 1931, Mr. Cahan said, and there were hopes of further reductions in the near future.

It is expected that the Dominion Government will extend an invitation to the provinces to submit suggestions to the 'position to be taken by Canadian interests at the conference.

The Alberta Government will also participate in a joint conference to which the Saskatchewan Government has invited its two neighboring provinces and which will be held about June 8. An exchange of views in preparation for the Ottawa conference will be the purpose of this interprovincial meeting, but Mr. Brownlee points out that it may not be found desirable to make a joint representation, inasmuch as the interests and resource of this province are much more varied than those of the other two provinces.

Dawson Ice Breaks Early

BILL IS DRAFTED TO DEAL WITH UNEMPLOYMENT

Ottawa, Ont.—The House of Commons took the first step to clothe the government with wide powers to combat unemployment. A bill was given first reading which would confer almost blanket power on the ministry until the end of the fiscal year next March. Debate on the resolution which prefaced the introduction of the bill was desultory.

Under the terms of the bill, which may meet more concerted opposition in its later stages, the government would possess power to negotiate agreements with the provinces, grant financial assistance to them and take steps "to protect the credit and financial position of the Dominion or any province." Money might be loaned to public or private undertakings. One clause of the bill would enable the government to "assist in defraying the cost of the sale and distribution of the products of the field, farm, forest, sea, river and mines," and this has given rise to speculation concerning a bounty system on the products of some primary industries.

The bill contained no limit on the money that might be expended by the Dominion.

The back-to-the-land movement, if encouraged by the government should not be confined to crown lands, said W. W. Kennedy, (Cons., Winnipeg South Centre). He knew of many good farms which had been returned to the municipalities for various reasons, and it was to these farms already partly cultivated and equipped that the movement should be directed.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell (Lib., Melville), said Saskatchewan had for many years, before the three successive crop failures in certain parts, produced more wheat than all the rest of the Dominion together. In connection with the five-cent bonus on wheat a request had been made to the government, he said, for an acreage bonus of $5 per acre of seeded acreage. Later on Mr. Motherwell suggested, the government might announce its attitude towards the request for an acreage bonus.

There is no evidence of whining or complaining on the part of business men and farmers in the prairie provinces," he said. "Crop prospects are good and when harvest comes there should be a wide demand for labor. It is noticeable that there is a return to the old horse power in replacing machine power on the land."

The tourist rushed into the hardware store: "I want a quart of oil, three gallons of gas, a couple spark plugs, a timer, a kerosene can and four large pie tins."

"All right," replied the alert clerk, "and you can assemble 'em in the back room if you want to."

Large-scale Farming.

Power farming on a large scale is now in operation on the McLaughlin farm, just west of Spruce Grove. Mr Jack can be seen any day now, out on the land with his quadruple outfit, which includes his tractor, plow, drill and packer; this combination going thru the spring work in one operation. When twilight falls, the searchlight on the tractor is set going, and the combined quad, like a censer, does its work while we sleep.

Auto Catches Fire

On Thursday last, while the Stony Plain Buick bus was a short distance east of Spruce Grove, the chauffeur noticed smoke issuing from under the cowl. On investigating, Jerry found that a small glass gauge had been broken, allowing the gasoline from the vacuum tank to spill on the engine, and become ignited. There was but one passenger in the bus at the time, and the combined efforts of the driver and passenger failed to extinguish the flames. When the fire had died down, the wreck was towed to Dave Bell's auto hospital.

Spruce Grove News.

Sunday last, the first day buses and trucks were allowed on gravelled highways, seen a large number of these conveyances heading for the City, after being held up for some ten days at the various towns and villages along the road west.

Here and There

Exports of Canadian wheat during the month of March totalled 9,920,624 bushels, of which only 11,238 bushels were shipped through United States Atlantic seaboard ports.

Canada's butter exports to the British Isles and other countries totalled 13,550,000 pounds in 1931, as compared with only 1,180,400 pounds in 1930.

Canada's bread and bakery products industry showed production to a value of $73,584,894 during 1930, through 2,696 establishments of which 1,071 are located in Ontario and 868 in Quebec.

March was the year's best month, to date, for pig iron production in Canada, with a total of 17,389 tons, at a rate of 580 tons per day, as compared with 362 tons per day in February and 332 in January.

W. G. Chester, dean of Canadian railroad veterans, has just retired, in Winnipeg, after 25 years in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway and another 25 with the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors.

Excursions run by the Canadian Pacific Railway between various points in Eastern Canada have met with unqualified success. To date, some 17,000 persons have been carried on visits and holidays, over different week-ends, by this means.

The 1932 census shows 728,244 occupied farms in Canada, or 17,154 more than were shown when the count was taken in 1921. Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia are responsible for the increase, with the last-named in the lead.

Navigation opened in Montreal on April 19, with the Canadian Pacific freighter Beaverburn the first trans-Atlantic ship in port. Her master Captain E. Landy, receiving the gold-headed cane, presented annually by the Harbor Commissioners, for this exploit.

Passenger honors in the trans-Atlantic service also fell to the Canadian Pacific, when the liner Montclare docked at the station on Tuesday, April 19, as the first passenger ship to arrive in Montreal. Thus the C. P. claims double honors for the 1932 season.

Liverpool witnessed an unique event on April 5, when 750 British boys and girls disembarked from the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose, after a special cruise in the Mediterranean. A great London daily newspaper has offered prizes for the best essays written on the trip.

Some weird stories have been told of feline sagacity. But the open record would appear to be held by a Siamese cat, which "solved away" on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, when she left England to go to New York to begin her world cruise last winter. Pussy finally decided to allow herself when the ship was half-way through her long trip. The Empress got a rousing welcome in New York when her trip was over, and she much-travelled cat was delivered to its owner, in the States.

CHAPTER XX.—Continued.

She paused, and the liquid in the black pot over the fire seethed up suddenly and filled the silence with its chuckling and gurgling, so that to Jean it seemed like the sound of some hidden malevolence chortling defiance at her.

The old woman clutched her hand a little tighter, turning the palm so that the light from the tiny window fell more directly upon it.

"There's a castle waitin' for 'ee, me dear," she resumed in the same sing-song voice as before. "I can see it so plain as plain. But you won't never live there 'til the one you love, though you 'avin' hopin' to. I see ruin and devastation all around it, and the sky as red as blood about it."

She released Jean's hand slowly, and her curiously bright eyes fastened upon Tormarin.

"Shall I tell the gentleman's hand?" she asked, stretching out her withered claw to take it.

He drew it away hurriedly.

"No, no," he said, attempting to speak lightly. "This lady's fortune isn't sufficiently encouraging for me to venture."

The gipsy's eyes never left his face.

"That's as may be. For the zaim luck and zaim-liluck will come to you as comes to thicke, maid. There's no ring given or taken, but you'll bound together so fast and firm as weddin' ring could bind 'ee."

Jean felt her face flame scarlet in the dusk of the tiny room, and she turned and made her way hastily out into the sunshine once more, thankful for the eager queries of Nick and Claire, which served to bring back to normal the rather strained atmosphere induced by the gipsy's final comment.

As they climbed the side of the tor once more, Jean relapsed into silence. More than once, more than twice, since she had come to England, she had been vaguely conscious of some hidden menace to her happiness, and now the gipsy had suddenly given words to her own indefinite premonition of evil.

"For there's darkness comin' black darkness."

It was a relief to join the rest of the picnic party, who were clamouring loudly for their lunch, good-humouredly indignant with the wanderers for keeping them waiting.

"Another five minutes," announced Burke, "and we should have begun without you. Not even Lady Anne could have kept us under restraint a moment longer."

The party was quite a large one, augmented by a good many friends from round about the neighborhood, and amid the riotous fun and ridiculous mishaps which almost invariably accompany an afternoon meal, Jean contrived to throw off the feeling of oppression generated by Keturah's prophecy.

Burke, having heaped her plate with lobster mayonnaise, established himself beside her, and proceeded to catch her about her recent experience.

"Did the lady—what's her name, Keturah?"—tell you when you were going to marry me?" he demanded on an undertone, his date-devil eyes laughing down at her impudently.

"No, she did not. She only foretold things that are really going to happen," retorted Jean.

"Well, that is," sympathized. "She can't be much good at her job if she missed seeing it."

"Well," Jean affected to consider, "the nearest she got to it was that she saw 'darkness' comin' . . . black darkness."

Under cover of the general preoccupation in lunch and conversation, Burke's hand, closed suddenly over hers.

"You little devil!" he said, half amused, half sulky. "I'll make you pay for that."

But out here, in the wind-swept, open spaces of the Moor, Jean felt no fear of him.

"First catch your hare—" she retorted defiantly.

He regarded her tensely for a moment.

"I'll take your advice," he said briefly. Then he added: "Did you know that I'm driving you back in my cart this afternoon?"

Various cars and traps and saddle horses had brought the party together at the appointed rendezvous—a little village on the outskirts of the Moor, and Jean had driven up with Blaise in one of the Staple cars. She looked at Burke's now, in astonishment.

"You certainly are not," she replied quickly. "I shall go back as I came—in the car."

"Quite impossible. It's broken down. They really brought on the lunch hampers in it, across that God-forsaken bit of moor road—with disastrous consequences to the car's internals. So that you and Tormarin have got to be sorted into other conveyances. And I've undertaken to get you home."

Jean's face fell a little. Throughout the drive up to the Moor Blaise had seemed less remote and more like his old self than at any other time since their quarrel, and she could guess that this arrangement of Burke's was hardly likely to conduce towards the continuance of the new peace.

"How will Blaise get home?" she asked.

"They can squeeze him into her car, Judy says. It'll be a tight fit, but he can cling on by his eyelashes somehow."

"I think it would be a better arrangement if you drove Blaise and I. There's certainly room for two extra in the car. There isn't really room for one."

"Pardon me. I should do nothing of the sort."

"Do you mean," he asked incredulously, "that you would refuse?"

"Oh, I should invent an armoured plated reason. A broken spring in the dog-cart or something. But I do mean that if I don't drive you, I drive no one."

Jean looked at him vexedly.

"Well," she said uncertainly, "we can't have a fuss about a picnic."

"No," agreed Burke. "So I'm afraid you'll have to give in."

Jean rather thought so, too. There didn't seem any way out of it. She knew that Burke was perfectly capable, under cover of some supposed

THE woman who lets headaches upset her plans must have her eyes and ears closed to certain facts about Aspirin. There is always swift comfort, and never any harm, in Aspirin tablets. Doctors have said so; men and women everywhere have found it so. Any headache—from any cause—is always relieved by one or two tablets. And lots of other aches and pains. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Rheumatism. Naging pains. The pain from colds which make you "ache all over." Sore throat. Systemic or "muscular" pain. Aspirin can spare you lots of needless suffering! mishap to his trap, of throwing the whole party into confusion and difficulty, rather than relinquish his intention.

"Oh, very well," she yielded at last, resignedly. "Have your own way, you obstinate man."

"I intend to," he replied coolly. "Now—and always."

CHAPTER XXI.

Divers Happenings

"I don't think I want any champagne," said Claire, smilingly, as Nick filled a glass and handed it to her. "Being utterly free like this produces much the same effect. I feel drunk, Nick—drunk with happiness. Oh, why can't I be always free—"

"She broke abruptly in her speech, her face whitening, and stared past Nick with dilated eyes. Her lips remained parted, just as when she had ceased speaking, and the breath came between them unevenly.

Nick followed the direction of her glance. But he could see nothing to account for her suddenly stricken expression of dismay. A man in chauffeur's livery, vaguely familiar to him, was approaching, and it was upon him that Claire's eyes were fixed in a sick gaze of apprehension. It reminded Nick of the look of a wounded bird, incapable of flight, as it watches the approach of a hungry cat.

"What is it?" he asked quickly. "What's the matter? For God's sake don't look like that, Claire!"

Slowly, with difficulty, she wrenched her eyes away from that sleek, conventional figure in the dark green livery.

"Don't you see who it is?" she asked in a harsh, dry whisper.

Before Nick could answer, the man had made his way to Claire's side and paused respectfully.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Suffers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused in nine times out of ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or stomach ulcers. Don't do an acid stomach with pepper or artificial stimulants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour fermentation out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instantly neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little Bismarck Magnesia, and not only will the pain vanish, but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bismarck Magnesia. It sweetens acid acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bismarck Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, cheap and pleasant to use. It is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

A very pretty wedding took place on Sunday last, May 8th, at the Glory Hills Reform Church, when Miss Pauline Lauxman (daughter of Mr and Mrs William Lauxman) became the bride of Mr Oliver Witmer (son of Mr and Mrs Cyrus Witmer). ### Hansen's Corners.

The farmers of this district are busy seeding, and now are pretty well along with their work.

Mr H L Sterling is preparing for his trip up to Jasper Park.

The U.F.W.A. meeting was held at Mrs. Erickson's, with nearly every woman in the district present.

Mr Fred Wilkin expects to start, shortly, on the construction of a new residence. The local boxing fans are arranging to attend the contest at Duffield on the 12th. Don McDonald, from Okla. homma, will be referee. This should be quite a drawing card.

Mr Ernie Sterling has gone north, for the summer.

Mr D McDonald's gang of brush cutters have about finished the job of clearing 75 acres.

A coyote with a collar on its neck was shot last week by a local farmer.

Mr H Summerfield expects to crop 200 acres to wheat this season.

The Conservatives intend holding a series of meetings thru this Constituency, starting in June.

At the next meeting of the Hansen Corner U.F.A. Local delegates will be elected to attend the semi annual U.F.A. Constituency Convention, to be held at Tomahawk, Friday, June 3d.

Alberta Musical Festival

Three adjudicators from England—Dr T. Armstrong, H P Greene and H Samuel, will officiate at the various competitions of the Alberta Music Festival, which will be held in Edmonton next week, commencing Tuesday, May 17 and continuing to Friday, May 20th. Over 400 entries have been made to the competitions.

The Bonus on Wheat.

All prairie grown wheat of the 1931 crop, on which a bonus of 5c a bu. is to be claimed, must be delivered to licensed grain dealers and elevators, who are authorised to issue bonus checks, on or before June 15, according to an order issued by the Board of Grain Commissioners.

Altho numerous resolutions have been forwarded to the Dominion Govt—some asking for a continuance of the present bonus, and others requesting a bonus of a dollar for every acre cropped, no intimation has yet been given that any further bonus will be given. The Act respecting the bonus on wheat grown in 1931 expires automatically on July 31.

It is understood the Board wishes to clear its books before the last day of the crop year. By June 15 any surplus on farms after seeding would be available. If held until next fall, no bonus would be payable on it.

A WEEK IN FAIRYLAND

Nobody ever entirely loses that childhood illusion of a land which surpasses in loveliness, surprises and happiness anything that the mind is capable of envisaging; the land of make-believe, which everyone hopes may someday become a reality. It is not too much to say that the glorious Rockies, Canada's great holiday territory, renowned throughout the world, are as close to this elusive dreamland as anything that mortal man is likely to discover. Special arrangements for the coming season now bring a week in this modern fairyland well within the reach of the average traveller, with Banff and Lake Louise, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as base-points and a wide range of every varying scenery and cosy bungalow camps beyond. The "six-and-a-half days" tour has already become a slogan among those planning their summer vacation, embracing as it does, not only the two famous hotels at Banff and Lake Louise, but such well known points of interest and beauty as Johnston Canyon; Moraine Lake and the immortal Valley of the Ten Peaks; the Lakes in the Clouds; the Plain of the Six Glaciers; the Great Divide; Watla Lake; Banff

Camp; Yoho Valley and Bunselow Camp; Takakkaw Falls; the historic Kicking Horse; Mount Stephen; Emerald Lake and the wonders of the great mountains near Field; B.C. Easily reached from all points by Canadian Pacific Railway, main line points are linked with the camps in the inner mountains by the Brewster Transport Company, fast masters in comfort and convenience for the traveller in the valleys and passes of the mighty Rockies. Automobile drives, trail rides and hikes combine with bright entertainment in the evening to make the holiday something to be remembered for a lifetime.

Departmental Exams.

Departmental exams in Alberta schools will begin Thursday, June 16; the papers are now being printed. Last year's plan will again be in force, which provides for exams only in grades 11 and 12, all subjects; and in grade 10 all subjects except literature and composition.

In all the lower grades the recommendations of teachers, based on the year's work and general standing, will be taken in lieu of examinations, the latter may still be held by the teacher or school as desiring.

The Spirit of the West.

Union News: My hat is off to the man who, in spite of the discouraging past, still gets out his old drill and plants his seed, no matter how old the woman who with eggs bringing about 5c a dozen still sets the old broodies. That's the spirit of the West! It takes a real he man or a 100 p.c. woman to do the like.
